Guidance for the Register of Members' Interests

- 1. It is important that Gateshead LINK members act in accordance with high standards
- 2. Members must not use their membership to secure financial, personal or business gain
- 3. You must declare on the register any financial, personal, business connections, membership of any other organisation(s) or any other interests that may influence any decisions you make as a member of Gateshead LINK
- 4. GVOC will store the register of interests in a secure, locked cabinet to preserve confidentiality
- 5. Members should notify GVOC if their circumstances changes and a new declaration needs to be made
- 6. Members will be required to update their declarations on a yearly basis
- 7. If an item arises during a Gateshead LINK meeting with which a member has a conflict, they should declare it and withdraw from the meeting while that issue is under discussion
- 8. Examples of relevant interests are:
 - Paid employment, directorships or partnerships related to any health and social care agency
 - Paid consultancies or advisory positions related to any health or social care agency
 - Paid commissioned work or speaking engagements which are not part of official duties
 - Voluntary positions held as an office holder or trustee for any agency dealing with health and social care
 - The employment or other financial, personal or business interest of a spouse, partner or close relative which could reasonably be regarded as relevant to the Gateshead LINK
